Victories in 2021

It is time for our annual CBR Communique filled with victories with which God has blessed CBR in 2021. Here are some reports of what is made possible by your faithful support of our ministry.

CBR Truck Drivers Are Visiting Professors

The city of Austin, Texas, was selected as a strategic place to launch two of our newer truck signs. Austin is where a professor at the University of Texas crafted the destructive “Critical Race Theory.” CBR often dives into hotbed areas to proclaim the truth through our photographs. One of our newer signs dramatizes the horrifying consequences of the abortion pill, which is rapidly becoming the abortion industry’s preferred way to kill preborn babies in the early weeks. The other sign educated about the tragic and diabolical trend to transgender minors; this is another attack on the image of God in our children.

We sent a team of seven volunteers to conduct our month-long Austin campaign that ended right before Thanksgiving. These dedicated men and women served as drivers and/or navigators. Two of our trucks covered 3000 miles each in Austin, as well as Dallas and Houston. Our trucks targeted the influential University of Texas which has 51,992 students. On Guadalupe Street, we noted that many students received our message as they crossed the street. Our trucks also drove around the capitol complex and spent time in the heavy traffic on Interstate 35.

Two CBR trucks educate people near the TX capitol. The sign on the left is about misogyny and the evil of letting men pose as women in sports; the sign on the right is warning against the abortion pill.

We Opened Her Eyes

During our October 25-26, 2021 Genocide Awareness Project (GAP) at Northern Kentucky University in Highland Heights, Kentucky, a student accepted a brochure from CBR staff member Mik’aela Raymond. The student indicated that she leans pro-choice and posed the question, “What if the mom is poor?” Miss Raymond explained that we would not kill a toddler because a mother is poor, so why kill a preborn child? The student asked a few more questions and eventually responded, “That actually makes perfect sense!” She added, “Thanks for opening my eyes!”

Sundays for Life in Germany Uses CBR Photos on Signs

A new pro-life group called Sundays for Life conducted their first abortion photo sign display in Augsburg, Germany, near Munich on September 26, 2021. Susie Molina of CBR-UK assisted the team and she reported about a passerby who stopped and stared at the banners. A volunteer started a conversation with him and it resulted in the man being led to faith in Christ. Praise God!

Post Abortion Support for Everyone (PASE) postcards are available in a UK hospital as well as a doctor's office. May they help many people find hope and healing in Christ.

PASE Post-Abortion Brochure in UK Hospital

Sadly, CBR staff member Joanna Keilson Chandler and her husband faced a miscarriage in July. While she was at the hospital, she realized there were both abortion patients and miscarriage patients in the waiting room. Information for miscarriage support was available, but not post abortion support literature. She contacted the hospital and told her story and offered to provide post-abortion literature, and they accepted it. She also took the Post Abortion Support for Everyone (PASE) postcard to her local doctor's office, and the receptionist gladly took them. When she returned, the postcards were on the front desk counter and people had taken some. Mrs. Keilson stated, "It is through our miscarriage that CBR UK's Christ-centered Post Abortion Healing information is being given out by the National Health Service!" God opened a door for ministry since Mrs. Keilson sought to help others.

Passersby took in the signs displayed by Sundays for Life on September 26 in Augsburg, Germany, which is near Munich. September 28 is "Safe Abortion Day" in Germany, but our photos make it clear that abortion is not safe for babies.

Lila Rose's Book Credits CBR

When Live Action founder Lila Rose was a student, we spent time helping her understand that it is imperative for the pro-life movement to follow the principles of historic social reform and to dramatize injustice using pictures. We also helped her organize campus visits of our Genocide Awareness Project at UCLA, her own school. In her new book, Fighting for Life, Mrs. Rose also records the significance of our photo repository:

"Under Gregg's leadership, The Center for Bio-Ethical Reform has done painstaking, groundbreaking work to capture images and video of abortion victims. To help convince an unbelieving world, Gregg has also secured signed statements from abortionists verifying that the photos and film footage are authentic." (pg. 91)

CBR Interns Influence Countless People

Our summer interns made an enormous impact in Nashville and Knoxville, Tennessee; Charlotte and Asheville, North Carolina; Washington, D.C. and Virginia Beach. Public sign displays were conducted over the course of their twelve-week program. This on-the-ground training was paired with in-classroom instruction. One of the many interesting experiences occurred at the Virginia Beach boardwalk when Klayton overheard a young couple talking as they came by our abortion photo signs. The man said something snarky, but the woman replied, “I actually agree with them and I’m glad they’re out here.” Stunned, the man asked, “Really?!” They continued talking as they walked down the boardwalk.

"In 2022, CBR is going to work even harder to polarize America on abortion by pushing more people out of the middle."

GREGG CUNNINGHAM

CBR Obtains Religious Exemptions for COVID Vaccines

CBR Executive Director Gregg Cunningham, a retired attorney, was asked for legal help by a few of our supporters who were applying for religious exemptions for COVID vaccines from their employers. We provided suggested wording and abortion photos to help them make their case. The following is an excerpt: “My religious beliefs preclude the taking of any medicine derived from any process associated with aborted embryonic or fetal tissue. Abortion is child sacrifice. My religion prohibits any association with child sacrifice, whether direct or indirect.” At least two men, a nurse and a custodian, reported that their CBR letters were successful. The nurse emailed: “Thank you, Mr. Cunningham, for your help and for helping me have a backbone.”

Good News from CBR International

- CBR-Sweden now conducts weekly photo sign displays in three cities.
- CBR-Pakistan has a new office which will help them in being granted NGO status.

“But when the set time had fully come, God sent his Son, born of a woman, born under the law, to redeem those under the law, that we might receive adoption to sonship.”

Student at Northern Kentucky University GAP

Left, CBR staff member Blake Dallariva interacted with a student who saw CBR photos at Arizona State University on November 23. Mrs. Dallariva commented that the only difference between us and aborted babies is that they didn't get a chance to continue growing. He responded, "Wow, I never thought about that." She asked him if she changed his mind, and he said, "Yeah, you did."
