Victories in 2024

Rejoice in our annual CBR Communique filled with victories with which God has blessed us in 2024. Here are some reports of what is made possible by your faithful support of our ministry.

Saving Swedish Babies

In the November CBR Communique, we reported on the Swedish web-based ministry to women facing crisis pregnancies. CBR-Sweden Director Mats Selander inspired Sofi, the founder of Livsval (Life Choice), to start this ministry in 2020. Sofi shared with CBR several photos of the 23 precious babies they have saved, and she gave us permission to share them with you. Many of Sofi's volunteers were motivated to volunteer with Life Choice when they saw CBR-Sweden displaying abortion photos in public. We praise God that He is powerfully using our international affiliates.

"Melinda's" baby was saved through the ministry of Life Choice. She calls her baby "My whole heart in the shape of a tiny human."

"Alyssa" had several children and was abandoned by her partner when she became pregnant again. Baby "Sarah" was saved from abortion when Life Choice offered her financial and practical support.

CBR Staff Members Boost PRC Banquet and Ministry

Amanda and Cody Levi, CBR Student Outreach Coordinators, were invited to speak at the fundraising banquet for New Hope Pregnancy Support Center of Dillon, located in Montana, held on October 8. Their presentation included powerful prenatal photos and videos, and the audience response was generous giving to New Hope. The Levis helped raise $13,000 - $15,000, in contrast to the recent banquets which lost money for New Hope. It is CBR's desire to partner with other pro-life ministries to make them more effective, so this was a blessing to us as well as to the Pregnancy Resource Center.

CBR-UK Featured in BBC Documentary

"Young, British and Anti-Abortion" is a British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) documentary which required a year's work for a reporter to create. It aired in late November and featured four pro-life individuals, including James, the CBR-UK London team educator. James gave his feedback after he watched the documentary:

"I am pleased that the abortion victim imagery [CBR copyrighted photos] was shown on the documentary, and that the numbers of abortions were spoken about. It was also good that abortion was called genocide on BBC One. I am very grateful that they included my presentation of the gospel of my Lord Jesus in the documentary."

CBR-UK Director of Communications Ruth Rawlins wrote: "A major win was that they showed the living and aborted baby images on our banners at our Glasgow display."

Praise God for this amazing opportunity for viewers to learn some truth about abortion and to hear the gospel.

Genocide Awareness Project at University of Georgia

God always sends us help just when we need it. In reflecting on the October Genocide Awareness Project (GAP) at University of Georgia, CBR staff member Caleb Johnson was weary after hours of time spent debating abortion and he stated: "I was exhausted and just didn't have any energy to talk to students. Then God sent us two people from Georgia Right to Life who were amazing pro-life apologists." They encouraged Mr. Johnson and our other team members as they joined in dialoguing with students who had questions about the meaning of GAP.

A student named "Edward" told CBR staff member Brad Martel that he became pro-life as he cared for his brother who is ill with brain tumors. His brother's condition made him realize that life is fragile. He was grateful that through GAP, we show students the truth about abortion. Interestingly, Edward's pro-life position led him to open his heart to God. A few months ago, he became a Christian!

Our team reached thousands of students during GAP at Univ. of Georgia in Athens, Georgia, on October 23-24, 2024.

Our photo murals turn heads and cause students to stop and reconsider the lies they have been told about abortion and "choice."

CBR Trucks Save Babies and Bring Out the Pro-Life Vote

Florida was able to keep abortion out of their state constitution in the November general election. CBR-Florida Director Bill Calvin reported on this aspect of the win in Florida: "It was a great blessing to see so many churches step up to join the fight to defeat Amendment 4. After we explained the serious threat to the unborn if Amendment 4 passed, one church began weekly meetings to plan the church's response."

In addition to church outreach, CBR operated our abortion photo truck all summer in Bradenton, Sarasota and Venice. Then in September and October, volunteer Bill drove the truck to Orlando and operated it in Central Florida until the election. We know that the photos bring out the pro-life vote, so we brought out the photo truck.

This CBR photo truck is based in Florida and it was driven for months to get out the pro-life vote. Thank God Amendment 4 did not pass.

CBR Influence in Mexico

A pro-life leader in Mexico contacted us in early December to request permission to use our videos for a website. We are eager to share our photographic resources with all pro-lifers who are working diligently to save preborn children. A number of times over the years, we have given our photos to Mexican pro-lifers who have used them to make banners to educate the public, as well as for other educational efforts. We pray that this new website will reach not only many people in Mexico, but in all of the Spanish-speaking world. We have translated many of our pro-life educational resources into Spanish not least because of the growing political influence of Spanish speakers in the U.S.

Become a LIFE GIVER this Christmas

We encourage more supporters to donate to CBR on a monthly basis. Consider making a new monthly donation pledge to CBR (or quarterly or annual pledge) or increasing your current giving pledge. Our monthly donors are our LIFE GIVERS. Note your pledge on your check or reply envelope. We are truly grateful for whatever you can give. "So let each one give as he purposes in his heart, not grudgingly or of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver." II Corinthians 9:7 NKJV

God bless you for your love for preborn children and their mothers.

"Glory to God in the highest, And on earth peace, goodwill toward men!" Luke 2:14
